Mini-Skirted Coeds Find Library 'Home'

Mini-skirted coeds feel right at home while studying in California Western University's Ryan Library, thanks to the addition of a collection of "mini-books."

On loan from the personal library of Wilfred Dellquest, a Pacific Beach author and educator, is a 40-volume exhibit of mini-books, many of which were printed in the early 1800's.

Ranging in size from one to three inches, the print is entirely legible in the mini-books, which were the forerunners of the popular modern pocket-sized books.

Whereas the miniskirt is a new fashion trend, the mini-book display makes one realize that the modern pocket book, the standby of college students and the general reading public, had its origin centuries ago.

In the early 1800's pocket editions were read by stagecoach passengers, horsemen who carried them in their saddlebags and by settlers journeying West in covered wagons.

The display selections represent some of the more popular titles and offers a good index to what early Americans were talking and thinking about. Many of the old-time books sang of the sentimental joys of romance as seen in the titles dealing with love, "Forget Me Not," by J. S. Lunt, 1847, and "Love, Forest Flowers and Sea Shells," by Alonzo Lewis, 1845.

"A Lady's Almanac," published in Boston in 1867, depicts the four hobbies then considered proper for young ladies: playing the piano, reading books, painting, and writing letters.

Other subject areas covered include biography (Life of Benjamin Franklin, 1847); fiction (The Bandit's Bride, by Louisa Stanhope, and "Elizabeth, or the Exiles of Siberia," 1832); devotionals ("A Companion for the Altar," by Louisa Stanhope, 1839); and miscellaneous ("The Rational Brutes or Talking Animals," by M. Pellham, 1813).

Three of the smallest books on display are a copy of "Hamlet," printed on the Island of Crete for English-speaking people, a Liliput "Little Webster" dictionary printed in Germany for English-speaking people. Dellquest's entire collection consists of approximately 5,000 books, pamphlets and manuscripts. For 15 years he has taught adult classes in American history and government in California schools and is the author of eight nationally published books on American history.

The California Western University display is open to the public during normal Ryan Library hours, which are 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday.

What Will The Plan Mean?

(Editor's Note: This is the last in a series of articles outlining the Peninsula Community Plan, which will be given a public presentation Wednesday evening, 7:30 p.m., at Dana Junior High School. All citizens are invited.)

All the planning of Peninsula Inc. amounts to one question: "What will the plan mean to the small businessman, the property owner, and the general public?"

According to President Chuck Bahde, the Peninsula Community Plan has been designed to protect everyone's investment, small and large. "An investor must know where his community is going," said Bahde, "or he can never be secure in his investment."

"If he sells, the Peninsula Community Plan can tell the buyer whether the property will remain zoned the same, whether there will be adequate parks, schools, and community services nearby, and whether there will be city services such as water and power."

"The plan will preserve and enhance the value of private property. Owners and residents can be assured of some of the best facilities the city can provide."

"Buyers can be convinced that their new property will not be subject to the whims of unregulated development."

Lowering Taxes
"Property taxes can be lowered through the use of proper densities."

"The plan can suggest better transportation, more public facilities, and a healthier, more liveable atmosphere."

The plan is a flexible document designed as a guide for future development in the area.

At the general meeting on Wednesday, the group of citizens who have studied the Peninsula and have written the plan, in conjunction with city Planning Department staff, will explain the planning process and the plan itself.

Suggestions from the community are welcome.

Humanitarian Gets Plaque From Navy

A Dana Junior High School teacher has been given special commendation for his work in organizing the West Coast division of the Navy's Project Handclasp, it was announced last week.

Commendation in the form of the first wall plaque with the Navy's insignia imbedded in ceramics has been given to Cmdr. Samuel Miller (Ret.) for his efforts on behalf of the people-to-people Far East project.

Cmdr. Miller was the first officer to be assigned as West Coast director of Project Handclasp in 1962. When he was relieved by Cmdr. William Wagner, the Navy gave him the medal in special recognition for turning over a highly successful program to his successor.

Project Handclasp is the Navy's part of the President's people-to-people program. Food, clothing, medical and educational supplies, donated to the project, are distributed in the Far East by Navy ships.

According To Need

The material is given directly to people according to their need. The program also brings close contact between the servicemen and the country's friends overseas.

The project has gained world-wide acclaim and has been lauded by the President, congressmen, and distinguished civilians throughout the nation.

School children all over the city have located food and educational supplies to be sent by the Navy. In 1964, the elementary schools held a city-wide drive for school supplies which were then placed in kits and sent to children overseas.

OB League Sign Ups Set

Ocean Beach Little League will take sign ups for the next season Jan. 27 and Feb. 3 from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the major league snack shack at the Optimists' Field, located at the foot of West Point Loma Blvd. and Bacon St.

Boys should be eight years old before July 12. The upper age limit is 12. Registration forms are available at the field or at any elementary school in the area. Boys should bring their birth certificates to registration.

Kiwanis Club Gains New Top Officer

Local insurance man Gerald A. Kelly took his place at the head of the Point Loma Kiwanis Club Friday night at an installation dinner held at the L'Escafe Restaurant.

Kelly was awarded recognition for five years of outstanding community service.

Immediate past president Reynolds Winters was also recognized for his valuable leadership during the past year.

Kelly was installed along with Charles Peck, first vice president; Capt. Marion H. Buas, USN, second vice president; Joseph E. O'Connor, treasurer, and Roswell W. Austin, Terrence Bagley, John C. Cornell II, Dr. Carl Elwood, Manuel Mariscal, James R. Norton, and William Todd Jr. as directors.

Guest of honor was retired San Diego Police Inspector Louis Schnug, lieutenant governor of Kiwanis District 21.

Chartered Underwriter

Kelly, 36, was born in Minneapolis, graduated from the University of Minnesota with a BS degree in Business, and arrived in San Diego in 1959.

He is a chartered life underwriter, a member of the National Life Underwriters

Association, and a member of the Million Dollar Round Table for the years 1963 and 1965 through 1967.

He currently is serving as education director on the Board of Directors of the San Diego CLU Association.

Kelly and his family, including his wife Carolyn and their four children, reside at 3334 Udall St. in Point Loma.

City To Seek New Proposals For Vending

Numerous inquiries regarding food vending and beach rental operations in Mission Bay Park and North Ocean Beach have led the city Property Department to seek new proposals for the two concessions.

William MacFarlane, city Property Director, said this week that proposals will be due Jan. 30. MacFarlane said present operators had been given yearly extensions of their leases because of little interest from other sources to make proposals on the concessions.

MacFarlane said that the city hopes to increase its minimum annual rent by soliciting new proposals. The successful proposal will be for a three-year period. More complete information is available through the Property Department.

FOUR AND TWENTY CREAM PIES—All sitting in a row, were the chocolate cream pies. When the shouting had died down, Rick Ellington had eaten his in one minute, 56 seconds, to win the Collier Junior High School pie eating contest. The somewhat battle-scarred winner, left, is joined by second place Robert Glenn, during the chocolatey aftermath, Wednesday.

Pie Slingers Donate $71 To Foreign Aid

How can 27 chocolate cream pie-lathered students from Collier Junior High School be contributing to international foreign aid?

With a little ingenuity, it's easy. At 10 cents per head, the other 300 students, who gathered to witness the messy spectacles, contributed more than $71 (including entry fees) toward the goal of $1,000 which will pay for the construction of a new school in a developing area.

The project, called BOSS, (Build Our Super School) locally, is part of the School Partnership Program started by the Peace Corps in 1963. Students at Collier are shelling out their own nickels and dimes to provide education in a South American country where even a one-room "little red schoolhouse" is a vast improvement, a step upward.

Collier's program, initiated by student advisor Mrs. Sandra Lippe, joined hundreds of other schools across the nation in contributing their version of "foreign aid" to school age children in Africa, Latin America, the Near East, and Asia.

The $1000 Collier hopes to raise will pay only for construction materials the recipients could not afford. The local people contribute labor and any other materials or funds available.

Once Collier's $1000 is sent to the School Partnership Program, Peace Corps, Washington, D.C. 20525, the school will be informed of the location of its partner school, and work will proceed.

Navy Chaplain Speaks Today To Baptists

The First Baptist Church of Ocean Beach, 1969 Sunset Cliffs Blvd., will present Lt. Cmdr. G. E. Paulson, USN, as speaker at all services today.

Chaplain Paulson recently returned from a second tour of duty in Vietnam with the Marine Corps. He also served at the hospital in Da Nang.

His subject at the 8:30 and 11 a.m. services will be "Vietnam and the Christian Witness." Chaplain Paulson will show slides of Bangkok at the 6:15 fellowship hour and will speak and show pictures at the 7:30 Evangelistic hour.

The public is invited to attend.

Thank you letters from the host countries are the general rule, after which Collier hopes international correspondence between the school children can begin. The new school will also be called Collier in gratitude for the support.

Task Force Will Study City Planning

Three North Shores councilmen have been named to a task force that will study who should have charge of the city Planning Department.

Mayor Frank Curran on Thursday appointed Councilmen Helen Cobb, Sam T. Loftin, and Floyd Morrow to the study group. They, along with Councilman Harry Scheidle will make a recommendation to the council on who should control the department.

The department, now under the authority of the city Planning Commission, has been the subject of controversy in recent months. Councilman Scheidle has recommended that it be put under the city manager's office so that it could be better coordinated with other city offices.

Earlier this month City Atty. Ed Butler ruled that under new state law the Planning Director can be hired and fired by the mayor, not by the Planning Commission as previously had been done.

Correction

An article in the Jan. 7 edition of the Peninsula News incorrectly identified James Cummins of 5158 Saratoga Ave. as an opponent of a city council resolution asking bids for the development of Ocean Beach Park. Cummins opposes certain parts of the plan, principally the road network at the north end, which he claims will invite a traffic problem.

Psychological

Dr. Richard E. Carney, associate professor of psychology at California Western University, has been installed as president of the San Diego County Psychological Association.

Collier students are hoping to raise the $1000 by June. Already, BOSS has brought in over $500 from several activities, including a cupcake sale and car washes. The next fund-raiser is an inter-school basketball game Feb. 16 between the ninth graders and the teachers.

Many homerooms are planning special activities such as the pie eating contest, inspired by Ted Muradien's home room.

Amid cheering teenagers, the winner emerged as seventh grader Rick Ellington, with a time of one minute, 56 seconds. He received two records as first prize.

The second and third place winners, Robert Glenn in 2:08 and Richard Olin in 2:25, each received one record.

Bigger Bite Talked About This Tuesday

City Manager Walter Hahn's recommendation that the city's room tax rate be increased from four to five per cent will be discussed in conference by the City Council Tuesday.

Councilmen will meet at 2 p.m. to discuss the increase which is expected to bring the city an additional $237,000 per year. Hahn reported that he favored the raise after Councilman Mike Schaefer asked that a possible increase be studied.

Hahn's report showed that 90 cities in California have a room tax and that at least 13 charge five per cent. Another five cities are reported considering an increase.

Hahn said that all cities in San Diego county except La Mesa have a room tax. Hahn also suggested four alternatives for consideration by the council.

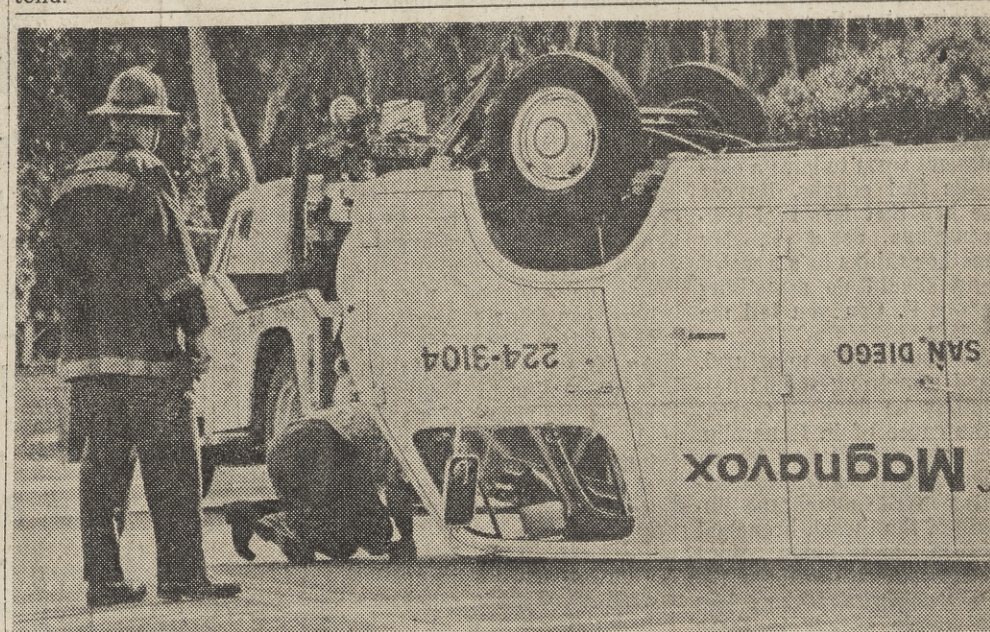

Speech Meet Set Saturday

The annual California Western University High School Speech Tournament will be held next Saturday on the Point Loma campus, according to Edward D. Rintye of the University's Speech and Drama department.

Some 300 students from San Diego and Imperial Counties will participate.

Catholic Theologian
Speaks At Kirk House

Rev. Eugene Burke, C.S.P., nationally known theologian, will speak today at Kirk House Auditorium of La Jolla Presbyterian Church at 7:30 p.m. on the subject, "The Future of the Institutional Church."

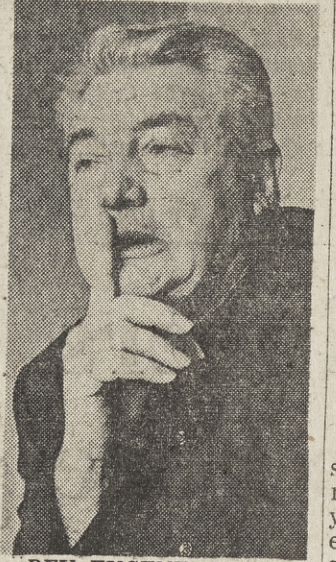

The Catholic theologian will present a series of lectures at UCSD and at several churches in La Jolla aimed at re-educating religious communities. He believes that a crisis of faith exists because of ferment and change within the Church.

Father Burke will also speak at special services at La Jolla Methodist Church at 9:30 and 11 a.m. today.

On Tuesday the final lecture will be presented at Mary Star of the Sea Catholic Church at 7:30 p.m. entitled, "A Theologian Talks About the Changing Church." The above lectures are open to the public and are part of the observance of the Week for Christian Unity sponsored by the University Religious Foundation of UCSD, and the La Jolla Ministerial Assoc.

Paulist Father Ernest Mort and William McAuliffe are serving as Newman Chaplain at UCSD. Father Mort is also president of the La Jolla Ministerial Assoc.

YOUR GOOD HEALTH

By
DOCTOR JOHN J. FLYNN
Doctor of Chiropractic

Q—I saw your announcement on the "Bob Dale Show" on TV and I'd like to know if Chiropractic can help me. Can you tell me over the phone?

A—No. One of the reasons I offer free initial X-ray and examination at the office is to eliminate a costly barrier to your finding out if Chiropractic can help in your specific case. Only through an X-ray can a precise determination be made. Just arrange a convenient appointment with my secretary.

CONSTANT COUGHING
Q—I'm 17 and going steady with this boy who coughs all the time. He doesn't seem to have a cold—he just coughs. Its got so bad that he's real self-conscious about it. My mother thinks he's a weird and should do something about it. Can you tell me what?

A—Coughing is unnatural, and something should definitely be done to correct the cause of it. Generally, coughs are caused by an irritation or an inflammation of the membrane lining of the throat, bronchial tubes, and lungs. More than likely there is nerve failure, or a serious loss of nerve energy to these delicate membranes. Just where the interference is must be pinpointed through a spinal X-ray of the cervical vertebrae. The nerves that control the lungs and bronchial tubes emit from the spinal column at this point. Constant coughing can cause a self-consciousness that may, in time, become a serious personality problem.

BED WETTER
Q—My ten-year-old boy still wets the bed. We've tried everything from doctors to drugs to punishment. Nothing works. Can Chiropractic help?

A—Bedwetting is usually the result of an instability in the nerve mechanism. The bladder serves as a storage reservoir for urine until it is convenient to expel it. The bladder's sphincters, or muscles, when closed, prevent the escape of urine, much the same as a string tied around the neck of a balloon. When they're open, the bladder's wall muscles contract, forcing the urine out. All bladder muscles are controlled by the nerves that originate in the spinal column. Blockage or pinched nerves, here, can impair the normal function of the bladder. An X-ray should be taken to determine if his problem is the result of a spinal misalignment in the lumbar region of the spinal column. If so, Chiropractic can help.

Doctor Flynn welcomes your letters on health problems. Mail your questions to his office at 6943 Linda Vista Road or telephone for an appointment to discuss your problem directly with him. Free initial X-ray, examination and analysis. Telephone 278-2902.

Just recently the new surfing park was completed including a new restroom and shower facility. The city expects completion of the new tower before the Summer vacation and influx of bathers begins.

Retirement

Wilson
Pursues
Taxation

Assemblyman Pete Wilson said this week that he will make another attempt this year to have legislation passed that will impose at least a partial property tax on retirement homes in the state.

A similar proposal adopted by the Assembly last year was killed in the state Senate. Wilson will pursue the matter again this year as chairman of an assembly Revenue and Taxation Committee subcommittee on welfare exemptions.

Wilson said that the measure will equalize property tax treatment for aged persons living in their own homes and those living in retirement homes. Wilson said that until last year no property tax relief had been granted to aged persons living in their own homes.

Aged living in their own homes with a household income of under $3,350 annually now receive relief on a graduated basis, said Wilson. He said the bill allowed $22 million in relief last year for persons over 65.

The assemblyman said there had been considerable concern over the local government over the tax-exempt status of most retirement homes. Because they pay no property tax they are not contributing to payment of fire, police, library, and other services provided by local government.

Wilson said he will also introduce legislation that would lift the present ban on school bands participating in any event that has an admission fee. Wilson said he will introduce other measures in the fields of traffic safety, ocean resources, property tax assessment appeal procedures and education.

Mrs. Evangeline Corliss of 1513 Thomas St. is the inventor of a new car and window washing brush which is being handled by the Creative Design of San Diego.

The brush is unique in that it contains its own supply of cleaning detergent and discharges it as desired into the brush head.

The device is readily adaptable for washing bathroom tile and bath tubs. It has a long handle so that the operator need not bend in the cleaning process. The water may or may not be directed in at the handle. The device is also used for washing automobiles and will perform other cleaning jobs around the home.

Communication Displayed By Pack Members

"Communication" was the theme of the January pack meeting of Cub Scout Pack 284, sponsored by Bay Park PTA, when the boys and their parents met Thursday evening in the school auditorium.

The meeting began with the presentation of the flag by Den 5, under the leadership of Mrs. T. J. Morgan. New members welcomed into the pack were: Kenneth Farrar and Lance Breen who will join new scouts Curtis Young, Kirk Kellogg and Bobby Serrano as they begin their Cub Scout experience. Mitchell Breen of Den 3 received his bear badge.

Webelos Mark Zeigler, Randy Gibson, Joseph LaCombe and Drew Nolin received the engineer badge and Johnny Martinez and Drew Nolin received their artist badge.

All members of Webelos Den 9 received the scientist badge at ceremonies in December. They are: Tracy Brown, Guy Escalante, Dennis Schimka, Richard Wargo, Carl McCorkle, Bracamonte, Joe Fontaneres and Shaun Phillips.

Skits for the evening followed the "communication" theme. Boys from Dens 3, 8 and 9 participated. Webelos Den 9 closed the meeting with a prayer, using another form of communication, Indian sign language.

The parent attendance banner was earned by Den 5 and the honor den banner which is awarded for good behavior was earned by Den 9.

The next meeting, the annual Blue and Gold banquet, will be on Feb. 15 in the school cafeteria.

ANGLO-SAXON VS MEXICAN

Two Cultures Meet—
So There's The Rub!

BY KAY LARSON
Sentinel Staff Reporter
(Second of a series.)

The mingling of two cultures in San Diego's backwaters gives the iciest shock to the Mexicans who are trying to become Americans.

Rough crosscurrents batter the Mexican-American's identity. His ties are with the rich culture of old Mexico, yet the Anglo-Saxons hold the strings of power.

For the Mexican-American recently arrived from the old culture, the problems are understandably the most acute. If his acceptance into the new culture is gradual and without trauma, the time will come when the Mexican-American is indistinguishable from the "Anglo" in his talents and potential.

But the most disturbance exists where the cultural waters meet, according to the conference of Mexican-American leaders held Thursday night at the Kearny Mesa Home Services offices.

The immigrant Mexican-American's plight is often desperate and his way into the society is hard, but there is a key difference between his difficulties and those of the Negro's, according to teacher Jesse Ruiz.

Wildness Missing
Though the Mexican-American needs the attention of the "Anglo" power structure, he lacks the overpowering bitterness that scars the Negro and drives him to riot.

"We tend to be in sympathy with the Negro's goals but against his violent methods," said Ruiz. The cause, according to the educators present Thursday, is a social mobility which the Negroes lack.

Many Mexican-Americans are anxious to join the culture they respect so much, said Ruiz.

But many cling tightly to the old culture. Often a Mexican-American child will grow up in an entirely Spanish-speaking environment, consequently throwing huge snags in his path toward achievement in culturally alien schools and law enforcement systems.

The lack of uniformity in the Mexican-American subculture is both the blessing and the curse of the Hispanic people in San Diego. On their slow journey into accommodation with the American culture, differences in the Mexican-American's adjustment levels cause huge rifts within their own people.

Those at the top, in high-paying jobs, speaking English as their first language and competing successfully with Anglos, often have no deep sense of identification with their own people. Many are generations removed from old Mexico, according to counselor Frank Cuenca.

Many other students are caught in the twilight zone, knowing neither English nor Spanish very well, being unable to understand school's Anglo orientation yet unable to live entirely in a Mexican world. Their loyalties are often split or non-existent.

Their parents are divided even further. Those who have close ties with the old life are often hostile to any attempt at drawing them into American society. Many, said Cuenca, have left Mexico because of an unsettling change in circumstances, yet they aren't happy here in an alien way of life.

The Mexican-Americans wishing to find identification in American society often have little in common with those who do not; and both groups have little in common with the many who have "made it," said Cuenca.

The result is often a crippling blow in uniting the Mexican-Americans as the Negro has been united. Political pressure groups are practically non-existent and the whole organization is a "network of loose ends, a bowl of spaghetti," according to Ruiz.

Frustrated Chewing
"Many who could help resent the identification with a Mexican-American cause," he continued.

Because of the lack of political pressure, getting vitally needed Federal and state money to flow is difficult.

Activists are left chewing on their own frustrations, blocked by apathy and fragmentation within their own people.

The long steps up the economic and cultural ladder provide both the well-springs of hope and the cause for despair among the Mexican-American people.

Story Error

A report last Sunday that the City Park and Recreation Board had approved a revised interpretation of Mission Bay Park's leasing policy was in error.

The board considered several alternatives to the leasing policy, then referred the matter to the city staff for a report. A decision on the policy is expected at the board's February meeting.

Seniors Hold 'Class Fair' On Wednesday

A Senior Citizens' Class Fair will be held Wednesday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the First Lutheran Church, Third and Ash in downtown San Diego.

The event is co-sponsored by the San Diego City Schools Adult Education Department, and the First Lutheran Church for the purpose of exhibiting works of art and other creative items that have been produced in the various Senior Citizens classes in the urban area.

A lively, varied program of entertainment for the visitors is planned throughout the day on the church's attractive patio. Choral music will be heard periodically, and members of the drama class will stroll about the premises in the costumes of their upcoming play in February.

Students of the art and arts and crafts classes will not only exhibit their work, but will be on hand to demonstrate their proficiency. The creative writing and expression class plans to display both written and oral examples taught in the class with students available for ready explanation. Clothing and sewing classes will show off the products of their intricate art, and the Spanish and lipreading classes will participate in the show. Objects will also be on sale to the public. Indoor facilities are available in case of rain.

The main purpose of the fair is not only to exhibit items created by members of the Senior Citizens classes, but to prove the fact that productivity can lead the way to happiness and fulfillment.

Host Program Gets Word Out For Visitors

The 5,400 participants in San Diego's Host Program contacted 21,970 visitors on an average day in 1967, according to a survey conducted by the Convention and Visitors Bureau.

A daily average of more than 7,500 of these visitors requests maps and brochures to help them utilize the community's facilities and attractions, the survey showed.

Results of the survey were announced today by the Bureau at a news conference at which Mayor Frank Curran, the city's No. 1 host, honored five representatives of the city's 5,400 hosts for the work they have done in the first year of the program.

Curran originated the Host Program to help San Diegans with the job of hosting and providing services to the visitor population, which averaged more than 88,000 daily during 1967.

The program was turned over to the Convention and Visitors Bureau to administer. After one year, more than 400 visitor-oriented businesses with 5,400 employees are participating.

Westgate Plaza Now 'Growing'

Construction of Westgate Plaza started Thursday at 8 a.m. when concrete was poured for the first footings of the building.

The high-test concrete used in the footings for the tower has a compression strength of 5,000 lbs. per square inch. The concrete is poured into horizontal grade beams and belled caissons, vertical columns that flare at their base, to distribute the weight of the building.

The H. G. Fenton Materials Company's Pre-Mixed Concrete Company is furnishing 10,000 cubic yards of structural concrete for Westgate Plaza, including 1,070 cubic yards of concrete for the footings.

Westgate Plaza will occupy the block bounded by Broadway and C Street, Second and Third Avenues, adjoining the Community Concourse in the heart of downtown San Diego. Completion of the $10 million complex is expected in mid-1969.

Westgate Plaza has been designed as a full city-block project dominated by a luxury hotel tower, containing offices and retail shops. The owner is the Westgate-California Realty Company of San Diego.

The architects are Associated Hotel Planners, a joint venture of Richard George Wheeler, AIA and Associates and Bird, Fujimoto & Fish, AIA, Architects. Consulting architects is Raymond Harry Ervin, AIA.

The general contractor for Westgate Plaza is a joint venture of South Coast Construction Company and Riha Construction Company. Structural engineers are Ferver-Dorland & Associates; mechanical and electrical engineers, Randolph, Johnson, Miller & Associates.

The hotel tower of Westgate Plaza will rise 20 levels to 257 ft. above the street and will be centered in the northern half of the block. Entrance to the hotel will be on Second Avenue.

The balance of Westgate Plaza will be occupied by a three-story commercial building with entrances on Broadway, Second and Third Avenues. It will have a total of 332,000 square feet of space, including one level of parking and services below street level.

Design features of Westgate Plaza will complement the United States National Bank Building, also built by South Coast-Riha Construction Company. The set-back of the building will be nine feet from the property line.

Pre-cast columns of quartz and white cement will form a stone colonnade around the four sides of the Plaza.

Marble facing will flank the main entrance on Second Avenue. Pre-cast, concrete stone slabs will reach from the third level to the roof, bordering the sliding glass doors of guest rooms and the gold anodized aluminum railings of the balconies.

More Changes
Invented For Honest People

Changes in the handling of medical expenses are about the only difference taxpayers will notice in the filing requirements for 1967 federal income tax returns.

F. S. Schmidt, District Director of Internal Revenue said there are two major changes in the medical expense area.

First, the medical expenses of those 65 and over are now subject to the same limitations that apply to taxpayers under 65. All taxpayers must now reduce medical expenses by 3 percent of their gross income. Such medical expenses include the cost of drugs and medicine which exceeds 1 percent of income. The excess over this amount is deductible.

Second, one half of the premium paid for medical insurance up to a maximum of $150 may now be deducted as a medical expense without regard to the 3 percent limitation. The balance of the premium cost for medical insurance should be added to other medical costs subject to the limitation. Life insurance and accident and health insurance covering the loss of earnings are not medical expenses and the premiums paid are not deductible.

These changes are explained in the 1040 instructions as well as the IRS Publication No. 17, "Your Federal Income Tax", Mr. Schmidt said.

SKIN TEST—Pacific Beach Junior High School Principal Robert J. Exter observes as Mrs. William H. Garrison, public health nurse with Tuberculosis & Health Assn. of San Diego County, administers tuberculin skin test to Mark McKinnon, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. G. McKinnon of 2465 Neoma St. The Christmas Seal agency expects to offer tests to about 25,000 eighth grade children throughout the county. The voluntary health organization emphasizes that positive reactions do not prove existence of active tuberculosis but they do indicate exposure to the disease and should be followed by x-rays and other tests by private physicians.

Wilkins Brother Participates In UC Program

The director of the Justice Department's Community Relations Service and one of his top assistants have accepted invitations to appear in a University of California Extension conference here Feb. 17.

Roger W. Wilkins, director, and Dan R. Andreotti, police community relations expert, will participate in "Police and Protest," a day-long conference to be held at Vacation Village Hotel.

The conference will explore the role of police in dealing with mass demonstrations and society's changing attitudes toward police, according to John Wood, coordinator.

Wilkins, 35, is the brother of Roy Wilkins, executive director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, and has served as director of the Community Relations Service since 1965.

Andreotti recently joined CRS after 27 years with the San Francisco Police Department, the last five years as head of its community relations unit.

The Community Relations Service was formed by the Civil Rights Act of 1964 to help communities and individual citizens cope with difficulties relating to discrimination and equal opportunities.

Utility Wins
Kudos For Light Design

The San Diego Gas & Electric Company today received a National Citation of Excellence for "outstanding environmental design of overhead systems."

The award was presented to Joseph F. Sinnott, SDG&E president, by the American Wood Preservers Institute, Washington D.C.

SDG&E was one of 25 companies selected for the honor from among more than 3,000 utilities in the nation.

The citation also commended the company for "laudable service in the public interest by improving the appearance of America's landscape."

Ralph R. McCulloch, of J.H. Baxter Wood Products Company, and D. C. Smith, of the Pacific Division of Koppers Corporation, made the award.

Med Center
Being Built
On Genesee

Work is now underway on Scripps Medical Arts Center at 9844 Genesee with completion scheduled for mid-May. The $500,000, two story building is located near Scripps Hospital and will provide 22 private medical offices.

University Mechanical and Engineering Contractors has a contract for $50,000 to provide the air conditioning. It will consist of 50 ton capacity of refrigerated air and 600,000 BTU gas fired furnace.

A double duct system will carry refrigerated air and heated air to all parts of the building where thermostats will control the flow and temperature of the air in individual offices.

The general contractor is Samuelson Brothers Constructors of Los Angeles, the architect is Ladd and Kelsey of Pasadena and the mechanical engineer is Stanley Pomarants of Pasadena.

CF Experts Speak During Conference

Outstanding authorities on Cystic Fibrosis — a major cause of death among children — will speak at a four-state conference on Jan. 26 and 27, 1968, at the Hotel Del Coronado.

They will include the battle against the dread disease, and the problems of the families it strikes, at the 9th annual Western Regional Conference of the National Cystic Fibrosis Research Foundation.

An estimated 250 chapter officials and representatives from Arizona, Nevada, Hawaii and California are expected to attend.

The San Diego Chapter, headed by Mrs. John Gill of La Mesa, is host for the conference.

Among doctors attending are:

Dr. Alan D. Mitchell, director of the Cystic Fibrosis Clinic, Children's Hospital, Medical Center of Northern California, Oakland.

Dr. Richard R. Dooley, clinical director of the Cystic Fibrosis Clinic, UCLA School of Medicine, Los Angeles.

Dr. Ralph C. Hornberger, chief, Bureau of Crippled Children's Services, State Department of Public Health, Berkeley.

Dr. Louise A. Yeazell, director of the Cystic Fibrosis Clinic, Univ. of California, San Francisco, Medical Center.

Dr. Chun L. Wang, director of the Cystic Fibrosis Clinic at Children's Hospital, USC Medical School.

Dr. John A. Bishop, director of the Cystic Fibrosis Clinic at Children's Hospital, San Diego.

Dr. Herman Lipow, Clinic Director, Phoenix, Arizona.

Also attending will be Mr. Donald Blyth, southern division supervisor, State Division of Rehabilitation, Los Angeles.

Dr. Mitchell will outline the change in concepts on treatment of the disease, psychological problems involved, and his own personal experiences as a center director.

Dr. Hornberger is expected to outline the aid available to victims of the disease from the state. Mr. Blyth will outline facilities available to train victims for jobs they can handle.

Make reservations to the Saturday Luncheon Medical Program by calling 239-4994.

Sportsman's Corner

BY JEAN SCOTT

A short yellowtail flurry off La Jolla sparked ocean fishing last Sunday. The morning run of the Seaforth II, skippered by Dick Stewart, found some small yellows boiling off the kelp beds.

Four yellows in the eight to nine-pound range were taken on the early trip of the half-day sportfisher and the afternoon run reported a couple of hook-ups but they were the kind that got away.

Stewart, incidentally, is getting quite a reputation as a whale expert as he provides an excellent commentary on the whole hunt trips, when he's not out "hunting" yellowtail.

Bonito catches still dominate the kelp beds report off La Jolla, and Point Loma anglers are limiting on barracuda. Fifty-five anglers fishing out of Islandia Sportfishing on Sunday landed 195 bonito.

13 barracuda, 23 bass and 253 misc. Seaforth's catch for 98 passengers included the four yellowtail, 238 bonito, 31 barries, one white sea bass and various other species. . . . And they call this "winter" fishing?

Orville Ball, city lakes specialist cited Murray and Miramar reservoirs as the M & M twin lakes last weekend. The attendance at the reservoirs was exactly the same, 650 anglers each and the trout average was identical, 2.1 per angler. Larger trout show up in various limits, several of them going two-pounds or better.

The younger generation created a "fishing gap" as they topped veteran anglers with heavy strings of trout. Seven-year-old Alex Castaneda, 7119 Ballenger St., San Diego, checked in at Murray with a six-pound trout limit, including a 2½-pound lunker.

A father and son team, Lawrence Lense and 13-year-old David of 3843 Mt. Blackburn Dr., fished Miramar reservoir for their limits of five each with their top trout a one and a half-pounder.

Eleven-year-old Randy Milner, 4375 W. Overlook Dr., San Diego, hauled in a 2½-pound trout fishing in the Kid's Pond at Lake Murray.

'Warhawk Walkaway' Threatens WL Again

Clairemont Holds Key In 'Big Game' Tuesday

By LARRY LITTLEFIELD

Only Clairemont stands between Madison and another "Warhawk Walkaway" in the Western League basketball race.

The second place Chieftains (3-1), who held some sort of mysterious jinx over the Hawks last season, will host undefeated Madison Tuesday at 3 p.m.

A victory for Coach John Hannon's Birds give them a two-game lead as the first round comes to a close Friday and Madison would greet the second half with most of its toughest road work over.

Madison easily won the league championship last year with a 13-2 record and both losses were to Clairemont.

"Clairemont had a real fine team last year and they have another one this year," Hannon said. "It's going to be hard to check their forwards. They're well balanced."

Hannon feels a win over Clairemont might provide his team with the momentum to roll into the second round like it did the second half of the '67 season. "It would be nice," he said.

In what by comparison may be lackluster affairs, Mission Bay (1-3) visits University (2-3) and La Jolla (1-3) is at Kearny (1-3) Tuesday at 3 p.m.

In what was Madison's most exciting victory of the season Friday, the Warhawks blew a big lead, raced from behind to tie with two seconds left, then defeated Point Loma, 70-67, in overtime.

Meanwhile, Clairemont stayed on Madison's heels with a 70-62 win over Kearny and University needed overtime to dispose of La Jolla, 60-58.

The Western League received its fourth scoring leader of the season Friday when Clairemont forward Fran Peterson, with a 29-point effort against Kearny, took over the top spot.

Peterson will be in the starting lineup for the Chieftains Tuesday, along with forward Justin Lanne, center

Mike Soliday and guards Rocky Koch and Pat Casey. Don Martin, Clairemont's usual started at guard, is nursing an ankle injury, but may see limited action.

Madison will go with its usual five, 6-10½ Ron Dahms at center, forwards Phil Edwards and Mike Cohen and guards Tiny Tim Amrine and Bob Brady. The sixth man, Ron Collins, Friday night's hero, will be on the wing.

Hannon may run into problems over selecting assignments for his man-to-man defense and Peterson has not been stopped this season by any one person. Sacrifice another player to double team Peterson and others will score more.

"We're glad to get them at our place first," Chieftain Coach Russ Cravens said. "We've had our problems and we lost a little poise with Martin out, but we'll be ready for Madison. It should be an interesting game."

Madison had all it could handle and then some against Point Loma Friday in a thriller.

Collins, a senior who never touched a basketball until his junior year, calmly sank a field goal with two seconds left to tie the game at 66-all. Madison had led most of the way, by as much as 16 points in the second quarter, but gave way to a spirited Pointers second half comeback.

Collins, a 6-5 senior who had replaced Amrine, sank Madison's first overtime bucket, Dahms hit another and it was 70-76 before Point Loma could score a point on John Urner's free throw with 16 seconds left.

Dahms and Pointer Charlie Garten staged a fine individual battle that ended tied at 22 points each.

Cohen, Madison's defensive specialist, held Loma's Morgan Miller to only four points through the first three quarters, but Miller hit for five more in the final stages. Cohen made up the difference, however, with 14 points.

Edwards also hit 14 for the Hawks and Urner tallied 15 for the Pointers.

Wilburn Strong of Kearny turned in the league's second best performance of the season Friday, netting 32 points in a losing cause against Clairemont. A 30-point Chieftain second period, with Rocky Koch dealing a hot hand, did the trick.

University's Dennis Cramer was the hero of his team's overtime victory as his field goal accounted for the only points in the extra period. Mike Grisham's 20 points led game scoring.

Basketball

Basketball league play for men over 25 years of age began last Thursday at the North Clairemont Recreation Center. Play will continue for nine more weeks. Any individual wishing to participate, may call Paul Smith, recreation leader, at 274-5828.

Padres Offer Special Bonus For Boosters

As a special bonus to area baseball fans and businessmen, the San Diego Padres will offer, this season, one free adult ticket to their Pacific Coast League opener, April 16, with every Padre Junior Booster Club membership.

The Padres will open defense of their PCL title against the Indianapolis Indians in an 8 p.m. contest at the new San Diego Stadium. Junior booster memberships entitle youths, 14-years-and-under, to attend all Padre home games for the 1968 season. A nominal charge for each membership is $7. The value of the membership is $35.

Traditionally, businessmen have purchased groups of Booster Club memberships to distribute to customers, youth groups and children's homes.

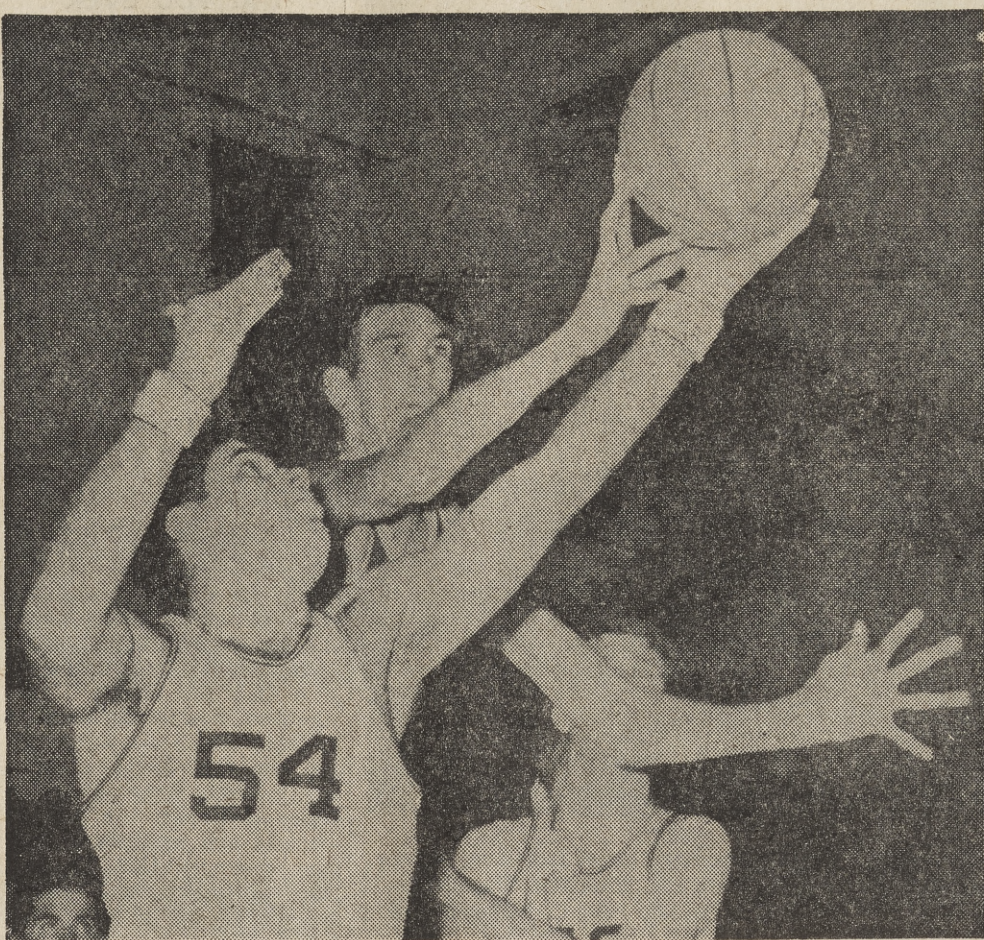

In continuing the club this season, at the request of area businessmen, the Padres have added the bonus feature of a free adult ticket to the opening game.

'69 Surf Meet Slated For SD

The top surfing event in the United States will be held here next year as part of the city's bi-centennial celebration.

The 1969 International Surfing Championships are slated for July according to Chuck Mason, local vice president of the Western Surfing Association, with the official sanctioning organization of the event in affiliation with the United States Surfing Association.

Confirming the San Diego site, Mason indicated that it is possible that the preliminaries will be held at a number of local beaches leading up to the two-day finals which will take place in the Pacific Beach area.

DAHMS ON DEFENSE—Madison High's Ron Dahms, who lost his league scoring lead Friday night, to Clairemont's Frank Peterson, is also a valuable man on defense. Here he blocks an underhanded layup attempt by Point Loma's John Urner in the second quarter. Hawks went on to post a 70-67 win in overtime. Madison meets Clairemont Tuesday.

FOR INDOOR GAMES MEET

Matson, Boston 'In'

Randy Matson, one of the super stars of the sports world, and America's two greatest long jumpers — veteran Ralph Boston and newcomer Bob Beamon — have sent in their entries for the second annual San Diego Indoor Games, Feb. 3, in the Sports Arena.

The meet will be run over the brand new San Diego Sports Arena boards. In fact, the boards are so new they haven't even arrived in town yet. Albuquerque track meet leaders are building the track and will ship it here this week.

Matson is the holder of the world shot put record of 71-5½. He is the only man in track history to propel the 16-pound iron ball more than 70 feet.

The 6-7, 260-pound Texas A&M standout is more than 2½ feet ahead of his nearest competitor, Neal Steinhauer, ex-Oregon.

Matson has indicated he won't be satisfied with his career until he wins the gold medal in the Mexico City Olympic Games this fall. Most track experts consider him the man mostly likely to win a gold medal.

Matson will have plenty of competition at San Diego from such other world-class shot putters as George Woods who did 64.9 recently at San Francisco; George Woods, and the four-time Olympic veteran Parry O'Brien. Also in the lineup is George Brown of San Diego State.

Boston is the all-time king of the long jump, co-holder of the world record at 27-4¾. He won the Olympic championship in 1960 at Rome and took the silver medal at Tokyo in 1964.

Beamon is the heir-apparent. The 6-4, 185-pound sprinter from University of Texas at El Paso may already have succeeded Boston as this nation's best.

Beamon last year broke Boston's American indoor record with a tremendous jump of 26-11. Already he is out 26-9 for the world's best indoor mark this season.

There'll be some class other jumpers in the lineup, too, namely Jerry Proctor, the triple California state prep champion from Muir High who now is a freshman at Redlands; and veteran Gayle Hopkins.

Tickets for the meet are on sale at the Sports Arena, 224-4171, and ticket outlets over San Diego county.

Rockets Recur Russell, Celts

The San Diego Rockets close out a six-game road trip at Boston Garden today in quest of their first NBA victory in history over Bill Russell and the Boston Celtics.

The game will be broadcast live at 11 a.m. by radio station KFMB (760) with Jerry Gross, the "Voice of the Rockets," at the mike.

The Celtics, second to defending champion Philadelphia in the Eastern Division, will be looking for their fifth straight triumph over Jack McMahon's expansion team.

Ex-Javelin Champion

'Bud' Held Elected To SD Hall Of Fame

Franklin (Bud) Held of Point Loma, the first American to hold the world's javelin record, has been elected to the San Diego athletic Hall of Fame by the Breitbard Athletic Foundation.

Held is the 26th San Diegoan to be named since the Foundation began the Hall of Fame by electing Dr. Harold (Brick) Muller, University of California all-time football star in 1953.

He will be formally inducted Feb. 19, at the 22nd annual Parade of Champions banquet, co-sponsored by the Foundation and the Greater San Diego Sports Assn. The event begins at 7 p.m. in the U.S. Grant Hotel's Palm Room.

Held broke the world record with a toss of 263 feet, 10 inches, August 8, 1953, in a meet at Pasadena, and later raised the record to 268 feet, 2½ inches, May 20, 1955, in the California Relays at Modesto.

Later, August 15, 1956, he threw 270 feet, but this mark had been eclipsed by three European stars who had bettered 274 feet a few weeks earlier.

He was, however, the first javelin thrower in the world to surpass the 80-meter "barrier" — approximately 262 feet — which in 1953 was considered in the same light as the 4-minute mile, the 16-foot pole vault, and the 7-foot high jump.

An all-around athlete at Grossmont High School in the mid-40s—he played tennis, baseball and pole-vaulted—Held went to Stanford University, where he learned to throw the javelin under the teaching of then-track coach Jack Weirshauser.

Alumnae Club Sets Program

The Stephens College Alumnae Club has slated a meeting at 7:45 p.m. Thursday at the home of Mrs. George Roach.

Miss Mary Ann Calcott, publicity chairman, will present a program entitled "African Photo Safari." She will speak and show slides of her recent travels in East Africa.

Miss Calcott recently spent three months on safari photographing the wild animals of game reserves and national parks of Uganda, Kenya and Tanzania.

Her experiences included a boat trip on the Nile in Muchison Falls Park, viewing the herds of animals on Serenegeti Plains and meeting the Masai in the Ngorongoro Crater.

She will show pictures of Victoria Falls on the border of the Rhodesia and Zambia and of the Transvaal of South Africa. Preparations will also be made at the meeting for the annual spring bridge luncheon benefit.

SQUARE DANCERS

The Dynamic 8's Square Dance Club held its "Hard Times Party" from 8 to 10:30 p.m. Thursday at Convair Recreation Association Club House. Clark Elliott will call. All square dancers have been invited to attend.

Shakey's Pizza Parlor Receives Praise Of Anonymous Customer

Letters of appreciation from satisfied customers are always welcome. But Shakey's parlor on Othello St. recently received from an anonymous customer, an "Ode to Shakey's," which parlor personnel found especially unique and gratifying. Since the poetry captures the spirit of a Shakey's parlor so well, we are pleased to print its full text:

"ODE TO SHAKEY'S"

It was September sixth, another warm and shady day . . . I was out window-shopping with my friend when I heard her say

I've heard about a swinging place that I think we ought to see,

And I said do you remember what the name of it might be, Shakey's Pizza Parlor is the name — and Othello Street — that's the spot.

The pizzas are the greatest; I'm told they're not to be forgot! A warm and cozy atmosphere, a friendly greeting, too . . . Show that a fun-filled evening is surely waiting for you. You'll sing your favorite songs, both the new and the old. And some will bring back those special memories you hold. Playing for you nightly are some real talented gents — The sound of their music is always a delightful event. For there's no better listening, let there be no mistake. Than a piano and banjo and the sounds that they make. So if you find you're feeling low, you'll know where to go. Head for ye old pizza parlor, that's Shakey's on Othello. And if you're feeling happy, by all means stop in, too . . . Shakey's is for everyone, but especially for you!

Clipped Wings Will Report

San Diego County Chapter of Clipped Wings, United Air Lines stewardess alumnae, will hold its first meeting of the new year at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Robert McKewen.

Mrs. Ronald Rasmussen, spring fashion show chairman, will give a progress report on plans for the event.

Mrs. Virgil L. Falter and Mrs. James Casebolt will make final reports on the sale of John F. Kennedy Flame of Hope candles and key chain bracelets. The project was designed to raise money for the National Association for Mentally Retarded Children and for the Development for Handicapped Minors.

Any former Captial or United stewardess interested in attending the meeting or obtaining more information regarding the group may call Mrs. Larry A. Jones, 460-6000, or Mrs. Edward Bean, 277-0209.

BETROTHED — Capt. and Mrs. Charles G. Fisher of Pacific Beach, formerly of Vancouver, British Columbia, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Heather Gumley, to Barton Louis Bowen, son of Bishop and Mrs. Richard W. Bowen of Pacific Beach. Miss Fisher is the granddaughter of Frank Thompson and the late Mrs. Thompson of Victoria, British Columbia, and the late Mr. Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Fisher of Earlston, Berwickshire, Scotland. She was graduated from Los Angeles County General Hospital School of Nursing. Her fiancé who is the grandson of Mrs. George W. Driver and the late Mr. Driver of Mission Beach was graduated from Brigham Young University.

KAPPA KAPPA GAMMA

Kappa Kappa Gamma Alumnae Association held its regular January meeting recently at the Point Loma home of Mrs. Raymond L. Cote.

Charles E. Cordell, president of San Diego's 200th Anniversary Inc. spoke on the forthcoming celebration and showed slides.

Assisting Mrs. Cote with plans for the meeting were Mmes. William Church, Charles A. Sand and Robert S. Baker.

Club Lunch Theme Listed

"San Diego — 200 Years Young: Its Heritage and Its Future" will be the theme for the San Diego Choral Club luncheon at 12:30 p.m. Thursday at the Ball Hall Restaurant.

Mrs. Frederick Huson, social chairman, is in charge of the event. Charles E. Cordell, president of the San Diego 200th Anniversary Celebration will speak on plans for the event in 1969.

Mrs. Thomas DuVall, president, will volunteer the help of the club for San Diego's anniversary plans.

North Shores members planning to attend the luncheon are Mmes. Charles Baker, Michael Hennessey, Walter Jay, Doyle Coons, D. B. Cooper, Kenneth Goodman, Anton Simpson, Wendell Jones, Edward Mays, Bruce Becker, DuVall, Huson, Lee Guidici, Joseph Dameron and Thomas Walmsley.

FLOWER PLANTING

Pacific Beach Girl Scouts and Brownies met for a song fest and planting of wild flowers at 1 p.m. Saturday at Kate Sessions Park.

Cadette Girl Scouts led the singing and planting in the canyons. The project is a county-wide service event to celebrate being in San Diego 50 years.

Town Talk

BY MARY FISHEL

DID YOU EVER . . . wonder why you exist? Have you ever had the feeling, although brief, that at some moment in time and space, you did have an insight into the reason for your existence? Eugene Ionesco, famous playwright, who is trying to discover the true theater uses odd elliptical fantasticality . . . amusing and provocative . . . written with kindness and sympathy.

Ionesco's "The Chairs" is playing every Saturday and Sunday by the Synanon players under the capable direction of Minerva Marquis at 8 p.m. at the Puppet Theater in Balboa Park. Edward Albee's "The Death of Bessie Smith" is an added attraction on the program, which will continue through the month of January.

In "The Chairs" Ionesco fills the stage with people by the simple but revolutionary device of not having anyone there. Imaginary people come flocking into the home of a very old couple. The guests include society people, ordinary people, a general and even the ruler of a kingdom. So great is the old man's desire to impart the golden illusions and futilities of human existence that he has hired a professional orator to deliver his message of wisdom.

There is a tragic sweetness about the old couple . . . he is a garrulous, memory-ridden old codger . . . she an old crone with sore feet, a loose plate, cracked voice BUT benevolent spirit.

IF MUSIC . . . is more your forte . . . a women's chorus is being formed under the Clairemont Adult School entitled Serra-Naders and anyone interested has been invited to join? They will meet every Thursday morning (9 a.m. until noon) at the Serra Mesa Recreation Center at Village Glen and Glencolman.

This will be a performing group which will sing for various charitable organizations, educational groups, community functions and concerts. Selections will vary from classical to popular show tunes.

Child care will be available for a nominal fee. Further information can be obtained by contacting Trudy Bernard at 279-2529 or Loreta Bergmeister at 295-4860.

LAS CHACUACAS . . . colloquial Spanish for "The Quails" is another volunteer women's auxiliary which has been formed to promote the objectives of the San Diego Natural History Museum.

The California Quail is the Museum's newly adopted symbol. More than 50 women have joined the group which was formed to promote community interest and pride in the Museum through volunteer work and fund raising activities. Among the projects planned are a Children's Library and a training course for women who will act as guides for the Museum.

Pro-tem officers, who will serve until June, have been appointed by Dr. Richard Phillips, director of the Museum. They include Mrs. Robert Kronmeyer, president; Mrs. Melvin Wooley, vice president; Miss Fusako Matsui, registrar; Mrs. Laverne J. Abels, secretary; Mrs. Raymond H. Suttles, treasurer and Mrs. Maurice P. Turner, historian.

All interested women have been invited to attend a general meeting at the Museum at 9:30 a.m. Feb. 13. Officers and committee chairmen will hold their first meeting in January.

DON ENGELSKIRCHEN . . . top salesman at Bill Schneider's American Realty Guild was the fellow who started the entire dinner party . . . living it up Friday evening at Mr. A's.

Since Don was the top salesman he offered to take all the men in the office to dinner at Mr. A's . . . when boss Bill Schneider heard about it . . . he offered to pay for the wives!

Among those enjoying the party were the Schneiders, Mr. and Mrs. Engelskirchen, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Batt (he was also celebrating passing the California Brokers exam), Mr. and Mrs. Bill Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. Max Baer and Mr. and Mrs. Mary Delpendang.

Mary Costa 'Quit' When She Was Nine

When opera singer Mary Costa was just nine years old she vowed she was never going to sing again. After she had sung a solo of "Silent Night" for a church group, she made her vow because "they didn't like me," she told her mother. "They all cried," Mary said.

But fortunately Mary Costa never stopped singing and she has gone on to become one of America's most popular opera singers.

Miss Costa will appear with the San Diego Symphony Orchestra in a single concert Thursday, Jan. 25, at 8:30 p.m. in the Civic Theatre.

Miss Costa, the first vocalist to appear with the symphony this season, is replacing soprano Teresa Stratas who had earlier been scheduled to appear.

Zoltan Rozsnyai, the Symphony's Music Director and Conductor, will conduct the Costa concert from a chair. He is recovering from a fractured thigh and ankle, following an automobile accident in late December.

For the Jan. 25 concert, Miss Costa will be heard in selections by Tchaikovsky, Richard Strauss and Mahler, among others.

The beautiful blonde Miss Costa appeared once before with the local symphony in 1963 during the summer season.

Born in Knoxville, Tennessee, of Italian and Irish heritage, Miss Costa spent her teens in Los Angeles, attended Glendale High School and the University of California at Los Angeles. Her music career began with her appearances at social and church programs.

From there she did the singing and speaking for Walt Disney's film "Sleeping Beauty" followed by commercials on television. While Miss Costa was studying under the direction of Mario Chamlee, a former Metropolitan Opera tenor, Jack Benny gave her her first break—a chance to sing on his show.

Records

Charles Allan Marlow of 811 Seagirt Ct., foodhandler at "The Courtroom" reported the theft of $150 in phonograph records from his home this week according to police reports.

Sun Valley, located in Idaho's Sawtooth Mountains, is reported to have the largest winter-summer ice skating rink in the world.

Writing For Publication Is Taught Here

A new class in journalism will be offered by the North Shores Adult School.

The class, taught by Robert Harvey, will be held every Wednesday from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. in Room 233, Mission Bay High School, beginning Jan. 31.

To register for the class simply call the adult school office at 273-3221, or register at the first class session.

Harvey is city editor of the Sentinel Newspapers and was educated in Connecticut state colleges and University of Arizona. He has a background in book and magazine publishing in addition to news writing and editing.

The only prerequisite for the class is the desire to write for pleasure and publication.

Special Art Workshops Are Given Locally

The Northwest YMCA is starting a series of special art workshop classes for young people.

Justiniani Haynes of La Jolla is the accomplished instructor. Justiniani received her B. A. in Fine Arts at UCLA, had a year of post graduate work at California Western and a year of study at the La Jolla Art Center.

Mrs. Haynes is a sculptress as well as a painter and has had her works exhibited at the Fine Arts Gallery of San Diego, La Jolla Art Rental Gallery, the Jewish Community Center Gallery, the San Diego County Fair, as well as in group shows and in private collections in Southern California.

Her teaching experience includes five years of private and group instruction and one and a half years as an art instructor at the La Jolla School. This new class is scheduled for Thursday afternoons from 3 to 5 beginning Feb. 1. Interested teens should sign up as soon as possible because the class is limited in size.

SENTINEL BLACK OUT BINGO CONTEST RULES

Contestants must be 18 years or older, on or before the start of each monthly contest. Full time Sentinel and Peninsula News employees are ineligible.

HOW TO ENTER: All paid subscribers to the Sentinel and Peninsula News will receive a Free Bingo Card from their carrier by prior to each monthly contest. Persons other than paid subscribers can enter by obtaining a Bingo Card at the Sentinel Circulation Office, 2724 Garnet Ave., Pacific Beach, Monday through Saturday, 9:30 to 5:00 p.m. before the start of each monthly contest. Only one Bingo card will be issued to a dwelling each month for the length of the contest.

HOW IT WORKS: 25 numbers will be drawn from a "Bingo Basket" each week. These numbers will be published exclusively in the "Bingo Basket" section of each issue. To appear in Thursday's paper, and to be eligible to win, you must present your card at the Sentinel Circulation Office no later than 6 p.m. Friday, following Thursday's paper, or 6 p.m. Monday, following Sunday's paper to be eligible to win.

CASH PRIZES: A new $25 Jackpot will start after a Jackpot has been won. It will continue to increase $25 each Sunday until another winner has been determined. If there is more than one winner, the cash prize will be divided equally. All cards and numbers will remain valid until the end of that month's contest, when new cards will be issued and new numbers will be drawn. However, all remaining money in the Jackpot will carry over from month to month.

Winners will be announced in the Sentinel and the Peninsula News. Anyone requesting further information may call The Sentinel Circulation office at 274-3212.

Dentists Will Have Week Of Their Own

A La Jolla dentist has been assigned a key role in the San Diego County Dental Society's sponsorship of the 20th annual National Children's Dental Health Week scheduled Feb. 4 to 10.

The appointment of Dr. William J. Kupiec of 7720 Herschel Ave. as the celebration's La Jolla area chairman was announced this week by Dental Society president Dr. Thomas H. Baumann.

Dr. Kupiec said the theme of this year's observance will be "Grow Up Smiling," which he said serves to emphasize the importance of good dental health for youngsters of all ages.

A native of Los Angeles, Dr. Kupiec received his undergraduate training at the University of Southern California, where he also was granted his D.D.S. degree in 1963.

He later entered the University of Indiana Dental School to complete his studies in the specialty of orthodontics and currently numbers among his affiliations membership in the American Association of Orthodontists.

Dr. Kupiec and his wife, Willela, reside at 1043 Skylark Dr. with their four children, Kurtis, Krista, Karla and Kraig, who range in age from three to seven years.

Joint Meeting Set Jan. 29

Pacific Beach service clubs will hold a joint meeting Jan. 29 at the Bahia Hotel.

Dr. William Rust, president of the United States International University, will speak to the gathering which will include members of the PB Lions, Rotary and Kiwanis clubs.

Children's Dental Health Week, he said one of the highlights will be the annual society-sponsored civic luncheon planned Feb. 7 in the Palm Room of the U.S. Grant Hotel.

Principal speaker at the affair, which is expected to attract some 500 guests, will be Phoenix attorney and noted platform lecturer Cavett Robert, who will discuss "America in the Changing 60's."

Public sanction and approval is an indispensable factor in any lasting victory.

Forget That Law About Registrations

State officials today reminded California motorists that it is no longer necessary to visibly display a vehicle registration card in the vehicle for which issued.

Recognizing that even a locked car only partly protects its owner if his name and address are exposed to view, Highway Patrol Commissioner H. W. Sullivan and State Director of Motor Vehicles Verne Orr jointly encouraged motorists not to strap a registration card to the steering wheel, clip it to the sun visor, or similarly make it visible.

"Our legislators changed the law last year," said Orr, "in response to pleas from citizens whose homes were broken into while their cars were parked at airports, signalling the likelihood that the owner was out of town. They also recognized the plight of women whose display of an address invited molestation."

"Official identification of motorists by checking out vehicle license plates is so rapid now," declared Sullivan, "that serious delay is seldom encountered when it becomes important to know promptly who the owner of a car or truck is."

Vehicle owners can protect themselves by keeping identifying documents out of public view inside their vehicles.

However, the law still requires that the registration card be carried with the vehicle and shown to a peace officer on demand.

Four Editors Named to Olympian

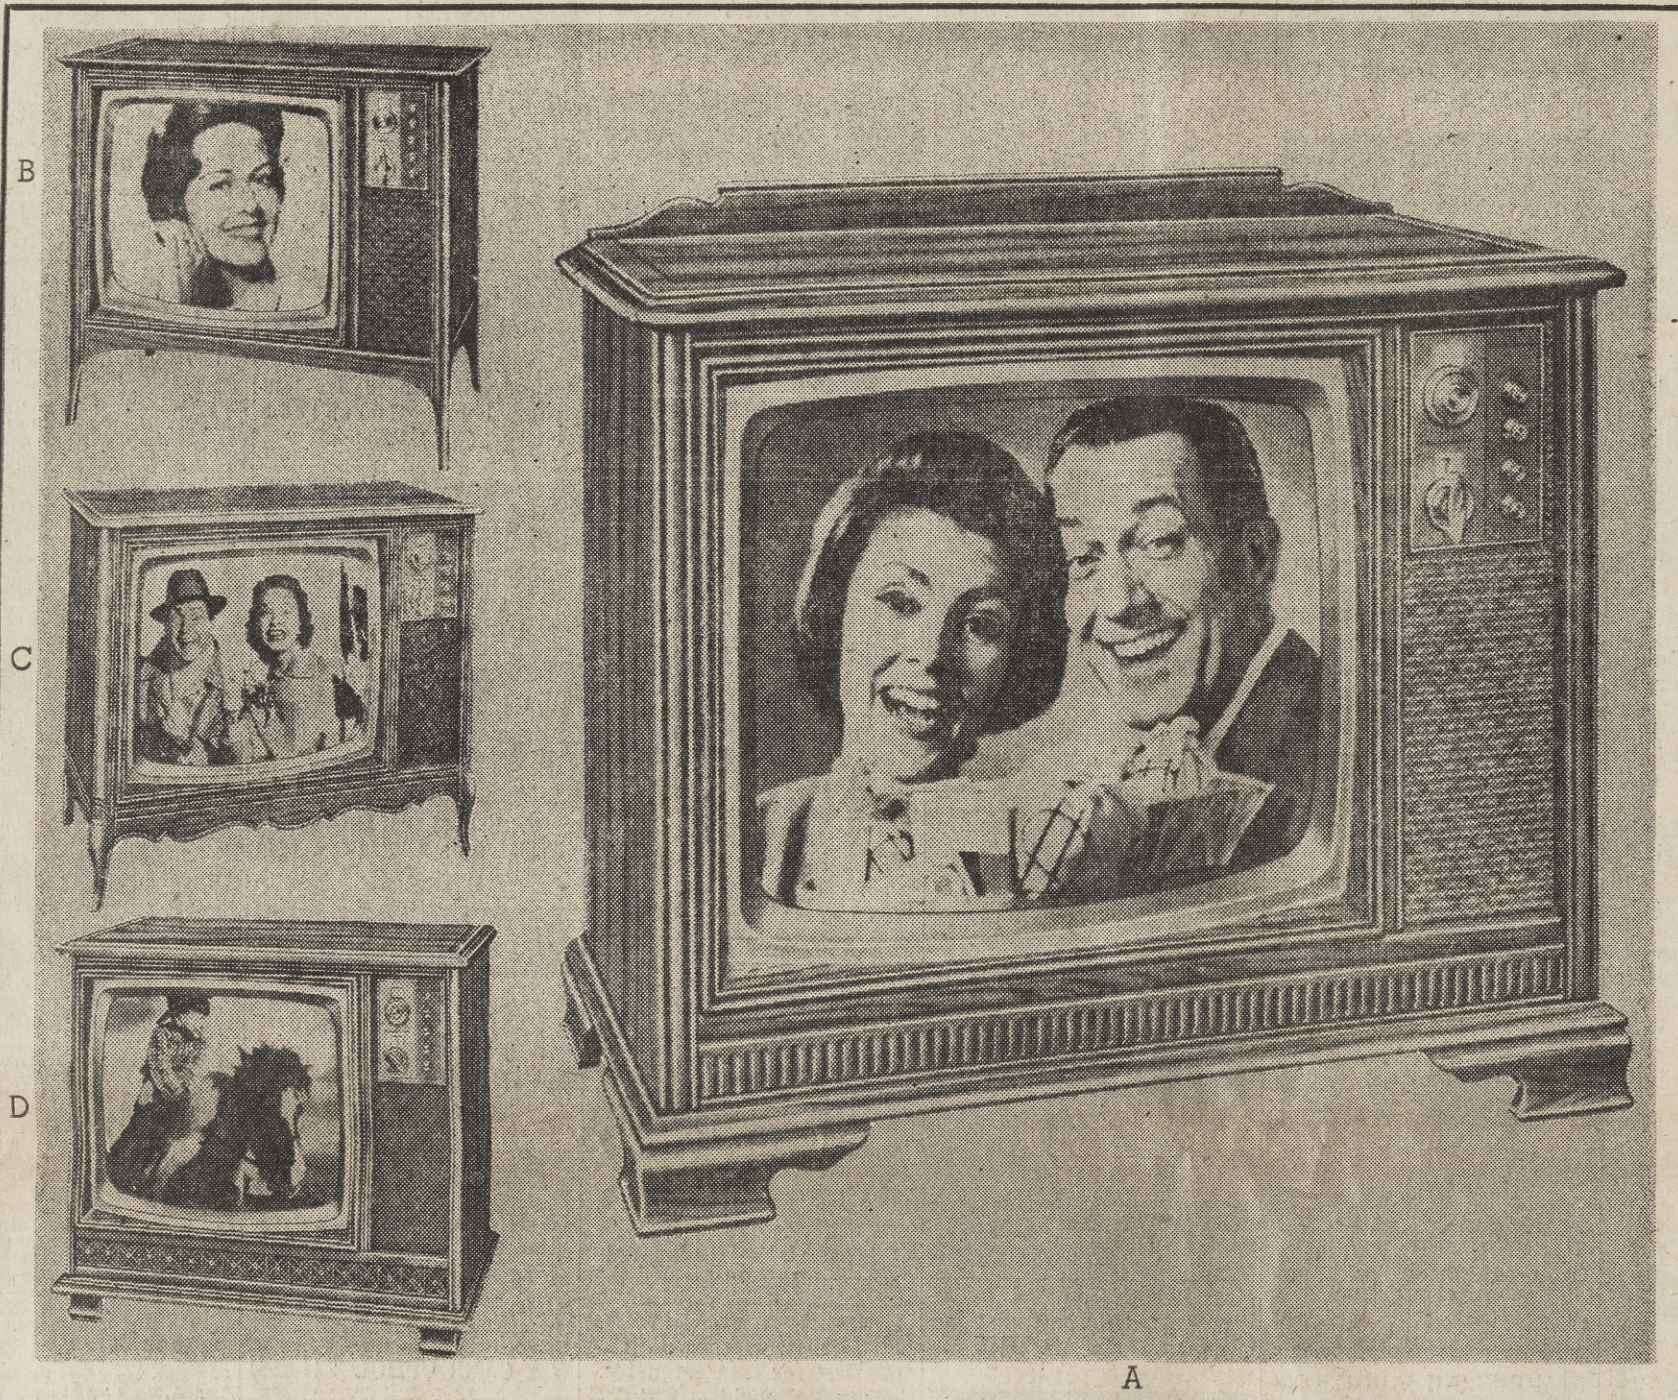

Mesa College's student newspaper, The Daily Olympian will be edited by a four-member "team" next semester.

Student editors are James Mann, Lynne Derrickson, Kathy Johnston and Karen Hurtt.

The students will exercise editorial autonomy over separate issues of the paper which is published four times a week.

Mann, the executive editor, fields an extra vote in the event of tie regarding editorial policy.
